

Gemütlichkeit for Wine Lovers

Bad Soden am Taunus has a lot of things to offer but a Weinstube, a traditional wine tavern, was missing. The wait is over now. Günther Eichler (right) recently opened the „Eichhörnchen“ in the heart of downtown Bad Soden. Wines are an affair of the heart for the 54 year old wine lover. He charms his guests not only with wine and stories but also with a song or two if the mood is right. Having dealt with wines for the past 35 years Herr Eichler now shares his knowledge and expertise with customers. Every month he offers wine from a different region. His selection showcases primarily German wines. For September he plans on serving wines from Franken. Eichhörnchen, Zum Quellenpark 7, Tel.: 06196 5 24 52 06.

James Bond Collector's Piece is back . . . in black!

For the past decade, Her Majesty's Secret Service agent 007 has been wearing an Omega Seamaster watch. Fans of the iconic spy, along with enthusiasts of fine watches, will be rewarded this Fall when Omega releases a special update of the incredibly popular Seamaster Diver 300m James Bond watch.

The „James Bond 007 Collector's Piece“ is the most elegant version yet. Visually striking, the watch features a polished, lacquered black dial with black gold plated hour markers filled with white Super-LumiNova. The luminous hour and minute hands are also plated with black gold. The watch has a central seconds hand with a red tip and a red „007“ logo as a counterweight which rotates in stark contrast to its black dial. Only 10,007 pieces of this exclusive Seamaster will be produced.

While some of the advanced features will appeal particularly to divers, the James Bond 007 Collector's Piece will prove irresistible to fans of 007, collectors and anyone interested in elegant, distinctive, state-of-the-art watches. Available at authorized Omega retailers.
